TITLE: Advice regarding paint protection.

REASON: Precautionary advice to reduce potential front wheelarch paint damage caused by tyre flung debris.

ACTION: Conceived as a minimalist, lightweight, race oriented track car, the Lotus 2-Eleven is not encumbered with front wheelarch liners. For other usage profiles and customer priorities, it may be expedient to treat the inside of the front clamshell in the wheelarch areas with a rubberised protective coating such as 3M's Body Schutz. This will help to reduce impact damage to the lightweight body moulding from stones and gravel picked up by the front tyres.

Note that the 2-Eleven carries no warranty on body or paintwork.
